Introduction

The draft Oklahoma Standards for Fine Arts encompass dance, drama/theatre, music, and visual art. The Standards are the result of the contributions of hundreds of fine arts educators, arts administrators, and representatives of higher education, arts organizations, and community members. This document reflects a balanced synthesis of the work of all committee members of the Oklahoma standards for dance, drama/theatre, music, and visual art.

The standards specify what students should know and be able to do as learners in their discipline at the end of each grade level or course. Students have different levels of experience within a discipline so teachers can attend to both grade-level standards and meet the individual needs of students who may be performing at levels above or below grade level. The order of the standards at any grade level is not meant to imply a sequence of topics and should be considered flexible for the organization of any course.

The Oklahoma Standards for dance, drama/theatre, music, and visual art were informed by the National Coalition for Core Arts Standards (NCCAS), the Opportunity-to-Learn Standards for Dance, the Opportunity-to-Learn Standards for Music, the Opportunity-to-Learn Standards for Theatre Education, the Purposes, Principles, and Standards for School Art Programs, and other states' standards documents.

Standards Overview

The Oklahoma Standards for Fine Arts are designed to support all Oklahoma students to develop and achieve artistic literacy and to promote access and equity in the arts. Study of the arts enrich the quality of life. Dance, drama/theatre, music, and visual art are used by and have shaped every culture and individual on earth. They provide a means for experiencing the world and give form to our innermost thoughts, feelings, and sensibilities. They also give students an opportunity to use metacognitive skills as they plan, monitor, revise, and assess their art work in dance, drama/theatre, music, or visual art.

A well-rounded education addresses the development of all the realms of human behavior—the physical, emotional, social, and intellectual. Neglecting any of the areas weakens all the rest; therefore, Oklahoma students must have access to arts education that includes dance, drama/theatre, music, and visual art. Schools that provide quality arts experiences, based on sequential skill development, supplemented with carefully selected arts resources, can help students cultivate a positive attitude towards themselves and toward learning—an attitude that carries over to their entire education and life. In short, access to arts education prepares students to be creative, persistent, and compassionate adults.

The standards are comprised of four artistic processes:

- Creating/Creative Process
- Performing/Production,
- Connecting/Cultural and Historical Perspectives, and
- Responding/Aesthetic Response and Critique Methodologies.

Each artistic process has a discipline-specific definition found in the discipline overview. The artistic processes branch into anchor standards in each discipline. The anchor standards designate specific learning targets at each grade or learning level.

Oklahoma Academic Standards for Fine Arts Introduction

In dance, drama/theatre, and visual art, there are elementary grade level standards through grade eight. At the secondary level in these disciplines, there are three proficiency levels: proficient, advanced, and accomplished. The proficiency levels may apply to high school students at any grade level and prepare students for a career or college life.

The elementary music standards extend through grade six. The ensemble and/or secondary music standards have five proficiency levels:

- Novice
- Intermediate
- Proficient
- Advanced
- Accomplished

Novice proficiency level is assigned to students who have started specialization and are developing artistic understanding and technique and may participate in performance opportunities as they are able. Intermediate proficiency level is for students who are continuing study in their art form, perhaps at the middle school level. Proficient, advanced, and accomplished may apply to students at any grade level. In a middle or high school class or ensemble, it is expected that the teacher will develop an understanding of their students' proficiency levels and utilize the corresponding level from the standards for each student.

Dance Overview

Dance is essential to the well-rounded education of all students. Dance enables students to outwardly express and create through the medium of physical movement. The essence of dance is to feel, create, compose, interpret, perform, and respond. Dance is the physical expression of an idea developed through a process of research, inquiry, and movement discovery.

A dance education program provides for a student's kinesthetic, spatial, emotional, social, intellectual, creative, and aesthetic development. Students are guided through experiences that are layered in a way that provides them with opportunities to experience and create different ways of doing and organizing movement sequences. These experiences are designed to enrich and broaden the students' awareness of themselves and their world. All students should be provided access to quality dance education that supports college and career preparedness.

The standards are the impetus for Oklahoma dance educators to inspire their students to explore and discover their personal connection to the deep human tradition that is dance. The standards also prepare students for a life-long immersion in the socio-cultural-historical meanings and experience of dancing, as well as the embodied learning and enjoyment that performing, studying, and viewing dance can bring. A glossary for teachers and administrators is provided in Appendix A: Dance Glossary. The glossary is not intended for student use; it contains educational terms for those reading the standards.

Dance Artistic Processes

The dance standards emerge from the artistic processes of performing, creating, responding, and connecting. Each artistic process branches into multiple anchor standards. The anchor standards further divide into objectives, which describe student learning in dance.

Performing

Dance is an experiential discipline that enables students to outwardly express and create through the medium of physical movement. Students develop and refine artistic techniques and work for presentation. They also select, analyze, and interpret artistic work. Performing helps students convey meaning through dance.

Creating

Dance is an art form providing students the opportunity to create and compose. Students organize, develop, refine, and complete artistic ideas and work. Creating a dance or a portion of a dance gives students autonomy and self-efficacy in the classroom.

Responding

Dance students work to understand and evaluate how movement conveys meaning. This process begins with students perceiving and analyzing artistic work. Students then interpret and apply criteria to evaluate the artistic work.

Connecting

Students connect in dance by relating artistic ideas and work with personal meaning and external context. This is accomplished through synthesizing and relating knowledge and personal experiences to make art. Students also relate artistic works with societal, cultural, and historical context to deepen understanding.

Drama/Theatre Overview

Drama and theatre are essential to the well-rounded education of all students because they lay the foundation for a critical understanding of human culture. Drama and theatre are uniquely qualified for this purpose. Drama and theatre do not exist within a vacuum, but rather comment on our world, history, philosophy, science, and understanding of our fellow human beings. Therefore, drama and theatre are a unique vehicle for transporting us to an infinite variety of integrated knowledge, understanding, and cross-curricular engagement. Drama and theatre reach out and connect to countless positive educational outcomes and support college and career preparedness.

*"The terms drama and theatre are used throughout the document to represent two ends of a continuum in theatre education. Drama is any informal dramatic element that is designed not for presentation but rather for the experience or educational value. Theatre is a more formal study of the discipline which culminates in dramatic interpretation by actors and technicians on a stage before an audience."
American Alliance for Theatre & Education*

The drama/theatre standards are intended to inspire educators to integrate drama/theatre into other academic programming as well as to allow the subject to stand on its own as a component of a well-rounded education. The standards prepare students for a life-long immersion in drama/theatre, as well as the learning and enjoyment that creating, performing, and viewing drama/theatre can bring. A glossary for teachers and administrators is provided in Appendix B: Drama/Theatre Glossary. The glossary is not intended for student use; it contains educational terms for those reading the standards.

Drama/Theatre Artistic Processes

The drama/theatre standards emerge from the artistic processes of creating, presenting, responding, and connecting. Each artistic process branches into multiple anchor standards. The anchor standards further divide into objectives, which describe student learning in drama/theatre.

Creating

Drama/theatre gives students a chance to create and interact with others through the art form. Students are able to generate, organize, develop, and rehearse artistic ideas that may culminate in an organized activity within the classroom or a performance for peers or an audience.

Performing

Drama/theatre experiences require students to interpret and share artistic work. They are able to analyze and select work for presentation. As they work towards performance, they develop and refine techniques and convey meaning through the presentation.

Responding

In drama/theatre, students work to understand and evaluate how the arts convey meaning. This process begins with students perceiving and analyzing artistic work. Students then interpret the work and use criteria to evaluate performance.

Connecting

Students connect in drama/theatre by relating artistic ideas or work with personal meaning and external context. This is accomplished by synthesizing and relating knowledge and personal experiences to art. Students also relate artistic works with societal, cultural, and historical context to deepen understanding.

Music Overview

Every human culture has used music to educate, communicate, celebrate, and live. When we come together for graduations, weddings, parties, sports events, and worship, music is part of the occasion. Music permeates our media world through video games, advertising, movies, and television shows. Students today have earbuds or headphones within reach at all times. They have discovered that music helps us cope with our everyday lives. It makes us feel less alone and guides us as we process complex emotions. Music heals.

A comprehensive public school music program that provides every PK-12 student a solid and permanent relationship with music can result in a lifelong interest and involvement in music. Students can explore, understand music, and have an outlet in creativity and self-expression by taking classes in general music, vocal music, instrumental music, orchestra, modern band, mariachi, piano, guitar, music theory, hip hop, and music appreciation.

The Oklahoma standards for music are divided into two grade spans: Elementary Standards (Pre-K-6th) and Ensemble and/or Secondary Standards (upper elementary, middle, and high school). The Ensemble and/or Secondary Standards encompass five proficiency levels and apply to ensembles such as choir, band, orchestra, and secondary music classes such as 8th grade general music, music theory, etc. A glossary for teachers and administrators is provided in Appendix C: Music Glossary. The glossary is not intended for student use; it contains educational terms for those reading the standards.

Music Artistic Processes

The music standards emerge from the artistic processes of creating, performing, responding, and connecting. Each artistic process branches into multiple anchor standards. The anchor standards further divide into objectives, which describe student learning in music.

Creating

Music is a creative art that provides students the opportunity to create, compose, and improvise. Students learn notation, organize, develop, refine, and complete musical ideas. Creating a simple musical idea or a composition gives students autonomy and self-efficacy in the music classroom.

Performing

Music offers students an opportunity to realize artistic ideas and work through interpretation and presentation. Students analyze music, refine technical skills, develop and express personal interpretations, and use self-reflection or peer feedback to refine the performance. Students may also select music based on their interest, knowledge, skill, and context.

Responding

Students develop their understanding of how music conveys meaning by evaluating works and performances. Students choose music appropriate for specific purposes and interpret works to reflect the creators'/performers' expressive intent.

Connecting

Students connect in music by relating artistic ideas and work with personal meaning and external context. This is accomplished through synthesizing and relating knowledge and personal experiences in making/understanding music. Students also relate artistic works with societal, cultural, and historical context to deepen understanding.

Visual Art Overview

Visual art is a significant expression of human culture. Art carries ideas from generation to generation, enhances cultural understandings, provides visual records of the past and gives form to contemporary ideas and events. Through visual art, we develop skills for perceiving, analyzing, appreciating, and responding to the visual environment.

Quality art programs help students develop skills to express themselves visually and understand the visual expression of others. As students work individually through an art project, there is constant decision-making and they learn to make adjustments to the work as it progresses. It is through the study of art that they learn about art products, artists, history, art materials, and art processes, which develop skills related college and career preparedness.

The visual art standards are designed to extend from pre-kindergarten through grade 12. The standards guide students through art skills in sequential order as they relate to the cognitive, psychomotor, and affective aspects of art. A total curriculum is balanced between the artistic processes: creative process, production, cultural and historical perspectives, and aesthetic response and critique methodologies. A glossary for teachers and administrators is provided in Appendix D: Visual Art Glossary. The glossary is not intended for student use; it contains educational terms for those reading the standards.

Visual Art Artistic Processes

The visual art standards emerge from the artistic processes of creative process, production, cultural and historical perspectives, and aesthetic response and critique methodologies. Each artistic process branches into multiple anchor standards. The anchor standards further divide into objectives, which describe student learning in visual art.

Creative Process

The creative process in art begins with learning the language of art and developing visual literacy to identify and/or communicate artistic concepts and techniques. Students learn art vocabulary, practice and refine techniques, make creative choices and practice individual expression in creating art.

Production

Art production demonstrates the learned techniques and expression of ideas. Students utilize a variety of ideas and different media, supplies, and tools in an appropriate and safe manner to create original artworks. They also demonstrate an appropriate skill level and revise and refine artworks to create finished works of art.

Cultural and Historical Perspectives

Visual art students learn about art in relation to history and culture. They connect artistic ideas and works with societal, cultural, and historical context to deepen understanding.

Aesthetic Response and Critique Methodologies

This reflective process includes art critique and assessment, preparation of the student's artwork portfolio, and the exploration and study of visual art careers and pathways.

Visual Art Glossary

Appropriation Intentional borrowing, copying, and alteration of preexisting images and objects.

Balance The distribution of the visual weight of objects, colors, texture, and space. If the design was a scale, these elements should be balanced to make a design feel stable. In symmetrical balance, the elements used on one side of the design are similar to those on the other side; in asymmetrical balance, the sides are different but still look balanced. In radial balance, the elements are arranged around a central point and may be similar.

Color The quality of an object or substance with respect to the light reflected by the object. Color has three main characteristics:

Hue - The specific name of a color (red, green, blue, etc.)

Value - The degree of lightness or darkness of a color.

Intensity - The degree of brightness or dullness of a color

Color can also be characterized by the following:

- White is pure light; black is the absence of light.
- Primary colors are the only true colors (red, blue, and yellow). All other colors are mixes of primary colors.
- Secondary colors are two primary colors mixed together (green, orange, violet).
- Intermediate colors (sometimes called tertiary colors) are made by mixing a primary and secondary color together. Examples of intermediate colors include yellow-green, blue-green, and blue-violet.
- Complementary colors are located directly across from each other on the color wheel (an arrangement of colors along a circular diagram to show how they are related to one another). Complementary pairs contrast because they share no common colors. For example, red and green are complements, because green is made of blue and yellow.

When complementary colors are mixed together, they neutralize one another.

- Warm colors are colors in the spectrum that suggest warmth, including red, yellow, and orange. Warm colors advance when used with cool colors.
- Cool colors are colors of the spectrum that suggest coolness, including blue, green and violet. Cool colors recede when used with warm colors.
- Analogous colors are colors that contain a common hue, which are found next to one another on the color wheel. An example of analogous colors include green-blue, blue, and blue-violet.

Contrast The difference between elements of art in a composition, such that each element is made stronger in relation to the other. When placed next to each other, contrasting elements command the viewer's attention. Contrast can be achieved by the juxtaposition of any of the elements of art.

Copyright Form of protection grounded in the U.S. Constitution and granted by law for original works of authorship fixed in a tangible medium of expression, covering both published and unpublished works.

Curate Select, organize, and exhibit works of art.

Elements of Art Line, shape, form, space, value, color, and texture.

Emphasis The part of the design that catches the viewer's attention, also referred to as the center of interest or focal point. Usually the artist will make one area stand out by contrasting it with other areas. The area could be different in size, color, texture, shape, etc.

Fair Use The doctrine that brief excerpts of copyright material may, under certain circumstances, be quoted verbatim for purposes such as criticism, news reporting, teaching, and research, without the need for permission from or payment to the copyright holder.

Form Three-dimensional objects that can be measured by length, width, and depth (e.g., spheres, cylinders, cubes, pyramids, cuboids, etc.).

Line A mark with greater length than width. Lines can be horizontal, vertical, or diagonal; straight or curved; thick or thin.

Movement The path the viewer's eye takes through the work of art. Such movement can be directed along lines, edges, shape, and color within the work of art.

Pattern The repeating of an object or symbol throughout the work of art.

Principles of Design Balance, emphasis, movement, pattern, repetition, rhythm, variety, unity, and contrast.

Proportion The relationship of one part of a whole to other parts.

Repetition Works with pattern to make the work of art seem active. The repetition of elements of art creates unity within the work of art.

Rhythm Created when one or more elements of art are used repeatedly to create a feeling of organized movement. Rhythm creates a mood like music or dancing. Unlike pattern, which demands consistency, rhythm relies on variety.

Shape A two-dimensional closed line. Shapes can be geometric (squares, circles, triangles, etc.) or organic (free-form or natural shapes). Shapes are flat and can be measured by length and width.

Space The area between, around, and within objects. The space around an object is negative space. The object itself is known as positive space. Space can also refer to the feeling of depth - also known as space-in-depth. Space-in-depth includes foreground, middle ground, and background space.

Texture The surface quality that can be seen and felt. Textures can be rough or smooth, soft or hard. Texture can be natural (real) and actually felt or visually implied by the artist and feels different than it appears.

Value The degree of lightness or darkness of a tone or color. Value is dependent upon the amount of light a surface reflects. Value can be created through the following techniques:

- Hatching - Technique that uses one set of hatching lines running parallel to the other sets.
- Cross-Hatching - Technique that uses one set of hatching lines over another set in a different direction so that the lines intersect.
- Stippling - Technique that uses a series of dots to create dark and light values.
- Tonal Shading - Technique that blends tones together creating a smooth effect.
- Shade - Dark value created by adding black.
- Tint - Light value created by adding white.

Variety The use of several elements of art to hold the viewer's attention and to guide the viewer's eye through and around the work.

Unity The feeling of harmony between all parts of the work of art, which creates a sense of completeness.
