

Adjusting to the new normal in your building can start before your employees return

In a post-pandemic world, the school is going to look a bit different. It will take more than a simple wash your hands sign in the restroom to make everyone feel safe and healthy again while at the office.

The good news is the timing to update your locations is perfect! We are offering site-survey of your facilities with our school safety specialists to recommend appropriate safety and security precautions.

A few suggestions:

- | | |
|--|--|
| <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Social distancing floor graphics• One-way traffic flow for hallways• Sanitation station pop-up banners• Staff welcome signage• Stop the spread signs and posters | <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Pillar wrap reminders• Table top signs for breakrooms• Conference room signage to limit head count• Elevator signs: max # of people |
|--|--|