SCHOOL NEEDS ASSESSMENT

Describe how the LEA has consulted with relevant stakeholders regarding the LEA’s application and implementation of school improvement models in its Tier I and Tier II schools.

Beginning in October, 2009 the LEA met with potential Tier I schools concerning the possibility of the 1003g grant. Meetings occurred with members of the LEA, the Tulsa Chamber of Commerce, Philanthropic Community Partners, The State Department of Education and the Tulsa Public Schools Board of Education discussing the lack of student progress toward college readiness standards and shortfalls in several academic curricular areas. For the past five years schools have implemented a comprehensive school improvement process and model that assured an analysis of data in the areas of instruction, curriculum, climate/classroom behavior, attendance and graduation rate. The individual sites received intense training in the disaggregation of data which included the collection, display and analysis of same. All significant sub groups of students were analyzed. The results were shared at several venues including, but not limited to, staff meetings, departmental meetings, grade level meetings, parent community meetings and print communications. Additional specifically designed focus groups were empowered to review and recommend courses of action which address unique and specific needs of the audiences within of the province of the review of the focus group.

Provide in the space below a narrative describing the needs assessment process the LEA used to collect, analyze, and report data.

The LEA used data collected from ACT to determine the college readiness of TPS students along with OCCT/EOI data to determine progress toward state standards. Each school used the SRI to gain student prospective and each staff participated in the WISE needs assessment focusing on the identified 29 rapid improvement indicators.

Provide in the chart below a summary of the results of the comprehensive needs assessment including strengths, weaknesses and areas of critical need as indicated by the data.

SCHOOL IDENTIFICATION OF INTERVENTION MODEL

In the space below, provide a detailed narrative describing how the selected intervention model was chosen and the correlation between the selected intervention model and the results of the comprehensive needs assessment.

Tulsa Public Schools decided to use the Transformational Model for all of the schools included in the grant. All of the schools have been involved in reform initiatives that conform to the requirements of this grant and five of the six schools has a new principal assigned for the 2009-2010 school year. The recent state budget cuts and resulting large numbers of classroom teachers being placed on trim lists would make the use of the Turnaround Model problematic. In addition, the school reform work that has taken place the past two years show definite academic achievement gains that can be accelerated by the components of the transformational model.

Need: 1.03 – Instructional teams engage in discussions within the school which result in the elimination of unnecessary overlaps and close curricular gaps. Activities: Central High School will engage and implement less overlap of instruction within departments by hiring two curriculum technology coaches for, one English/Social Studies and one for Math/Science. The coaches will be a certified teacher in one of the teaching areas and have technology experience or aptitude, and at least three years of classroom experience. These coaches will ensure teacher lesson plan accountability and will provide training in new strategies, assist in the implementation of technology-based learning, and provide assistance with differentiated instruction. In addition, Central High School will develop departmental rubrics for classroom achievement and assessment. The school will also expand teacher professional development through the implementation of 90 minutes per week in professional learning communities. This additional time will be dedicated to planning, sharing lesson plan ideas, strengthening units, and imbedding successful instructional in strategies. Additional time will be used to develop common rubrics, pre-and-post assessments, review benchmark data, and analyze data to inform instruction. These meetings will be divided by academic discipline, and will be lead by the leadership team, which will include department chairs, the Transformation Coach, and administration.

Need: 2.03 – All teachers design units of instructions to include pre-and post-tests that include student mastery of standards-based objectives. Activities: Central High School teachers will develop course specific pre-and post-tests containing only level 2 or higher questions. Curriculum adjustments will be made to ensure that students will receive remediation and differentiated instruction to ensure their academic success. Data will be analyzed weekly during teacher professional learning communities.

4.03 – All teachers hold high academic and behavioral expectations for all students. Activities: Parents and students will agree to behavior and academic standards by signing an agreement for participation at Central High School. Students will be admitted to Central based upon interest in the fine arts and agree to behavior and academic expectations.

5.01 – Families and communities are active partners in the educational process and work with staff to promote programs and services for all students. Activities: Parents will be required to sign a participation agreement by agreeing to volunteer ten hours per year at the school. The school's parent facilitator will be responsible for coordinating volunteer efforts and implementing an orientation program for all parent volunteers. Orientation will occur during PTSA meetings and/or Back to School Night and will include an activity fair where parents can view the various volunteer opportunities.

6.13 – School leadership uses the evaluation process to provide teachers with follow-up and support to change behavior and instructional practices. Activities: Formal and informal processes will provide teachers immediate feedback and support to improve behavior and instructional practices. Instructional coaches and the Leadership Team will be part of this process. Focus Walks will take place on a monthly basis and data collected will be used to drive professional development for teachers.

SCHOOL SMART GOALS

Complete the charts below by providing three-year SMART Goals in Reading/Language Arts, Mathematics, and Graduation Rate, if applicable for the All Students subgroup. See the Application Instructions for the School Section for more information on SMART Goals.

SMART Reading/Language Arts Goals
Goal for 2010-2011: The percentage of all students in English II at Central High School who satisfactory or above in reading on EOI will increase from the current 46% to 56% in the 2010-2011 school year. Students meeting college readiness standards (ACT-EPAS) 20%.
Goal for 2011-2012: The percentage of all students in English II at Central High School who satisfactory or above in reading on EOI will increase from the current 56% to 66% in the 2011-

2012 school year. Students meeting college readiness standards (ACT-EPAS) 25%.
Goal for 2012-2013: The percentage of all students in English II at Central High School who satisfactory or above in reading on EOI will increase from the current 66% to 76% in the 2012 to 2013 school year. Students meeting college readiness standards (ACT-EPAS) 30%.
Rationale: To increase student achievement so that high percentage of students are college and career ready.

SMART Mathematics Goals
Goal for 2010-2011: The API mathematics score for students in the ALL Students subgroup will increase from the current Algebra I score of 64% to 69% and from the 14% - 30% in Algebra II for the 2010-2011 school year. Students meeting college readiness standards (ACT-EPAS) 12%.
Goal for 2011-2012: The API mathematics score for students in the ALL Students subgroup will increase from the current Algebra I score of 69% to 74% and from the 30% - 46% in Algebra II for the 2011-2012 school year. Students meeting college readiness standards (ACT-EPAS) 17%.
Goal for 2012-2013: The API mathematics score for students in the ALL Students subgroup will increase from the current Algebra I score of 74% to 79% and from the 46% - 62% in Algebra II for the 2012-2013 school year. Students meeting college readiness standards (ACT-EPAS) 23%.
Rationale: To increase student achievement so that high percentage of students are college and career ready.

SMART Graduation Rate Goals
Goal for 2010-2011: The percentage of all students graduating from their current peer group will increase from 59% to 65% during the 2010-2011 school year.
Goal for 2011-2012: The percentage of all students graduating from their current peer group will increase from 65% to 70% during the 2011-2012 school year.
Goal for 2012-2013: The percentage of all students graduating from their current peer group will increase from 70% to 75% during the 2012-2013 school year.
Rationale: To increase student achievement so that high percentage of students are college and career ready.

SCHOOL ACTION PLAN

For each Tier I and Tier II school, complete a three-year action plan for the selected intervention model. Be specific and provide detailed information regarding action steps, timelines, and person(s) responsible. Action plans can be expanded as needed.

1. Replace the principal who led the school prior to commencement of the transformation model.	TPS has selected Dr. Oliver Wallace to serve Central High School in their transformational process to bring about greater academic success and progress as well as increasing the college/career-readiness of its students. Dr. Wallace was selected due to demonstration of outstanding leadership which included: previous outstanding success in leading Central High School to meeting AYP goals in 2008-09; previous successful leadership as an assistant principal at East Central High School; her understanding of faculty needs; her staff development leadership and participation in differentiated instructional models; her on-going understanding and partnership with the University of Oklahoma’s Center for Community Engagement. The principal already selected demonstrates the following qualities: Turnaround principals will provide transformational leadership to planning, launching and managing the schools identified by the Oklahoma State Department of Education as under-performing and in need of improvement. This will include implementing the intervention model chosen by TPS and the school leadership to focus on high student achievement and progress, college/career-readiness, building a positive and safe school climate that supports the whole student, leveraging research and data based decision making to drive initiatives and instruction, as well as a high performance culture for both the teaching staff and the leadership team to achieve the school’s visionary but realistic goals. The Turnaround principals will be responsible for collaborating with parents, community members, the Turnaround Office and the Lead Turnaround	July 2010	Associate Superintendent of Secondary Schools and the Human Capital Office

	Partners, as well as other internal/external resources and stakeholder to implement new education programs, data tools, and other resources to accelerate student achievement/progress and college/career-readiness. The Turnaround principal will have entrepreneurial school leadership experience with demonstrated success in driving high performance, raising student achievement and progress, and improving achievement and progress for underperforming subgroups. They will have experience in building effective teams along with exceptional coaching skills. They will also have strong curriculum knowledge, including implementing literacy and math interventions. Qualifications: Master’s Degree or equivalent in educational administration and valid and appropriate Principal Certification.

2. Use rigorous, transparent, and equitable evaluation systems for teachers and principals that: a. Multiple year averages will be used for evaluation and exiting decisions to eliminate the risk of year by year score fluctuations that may occur for reasons outside the teacher's control. Additionally, a set of control variables will be identified by the vendor and formulated into the value-added calculation to ensure that the teacher's value-added score is measuring teacher effectiveness rather than student characteristics. These control variables will be developed according to data availability, specifications determined by the value-added vendor, as well as the statistical significance of each in properly measuring teacher effectiveness.	Teacher-student linkage will be verified in May 2010 Value-added Vendor Identified through RFP process by July 2010. 	TPS has determined that a nationally recognized vendor that specializes in value-added measures will best serve its purposes for the following reasons: the calculations and analyses necessary to produce reliable value-added scores are complex; a proactive approach is needed to instill teacher confidence an objective assessment system. Only teachers in tested grades or subjects where a test was given in the previous year will be provided with an individual value-added score. Teachers in non-tested grades and subjects will be included in the analysis as it pertains to school-wide value-added scores and student growth projections. Training will be provided annually, aligned to value-added reporting cycles, to ensure that teachers and administrators effectively use the data to determine intervention, acceleration, and appropriate student course placement. Teacher Expectations Teacher expectations will be established and assessed via the performance rubric created under the TPS Teacher and Leader Effectiveness Initiative. While only a portion of TPS teachers will have individual value-added scores, all teachers will be assessed using the newly re-designed teacher performance rubric beginning in fall of 2010. The rubric will be crafted to comply with all state regulations to successfully identify the effectiveness and developmental needs of teachers. The team assigned to this re-design has examined the standard Oklahoma evaluation tool, evaluation tools from other states, the research of Charlotte Danielson, Thomas Toch and Robert Rothman.	October 2010 and beyond July-August 2010	Consultants, university partners Human Capital, consultants

	The final rubric will include clear indicators of each domain and dimension that will be provided to each teacher and reviewer along with training to understand the measures. The rubric will be divided into five numerical performance levels defined for each dimension. Teachers who meet the lowest performance level (1) criteria will be equivalent to “unsatisfactory.” Correlatively, teachers who meet the highest performance level (5) criteria will equate to the most effective teachers. A field test of the performance rubric is currently underway and a team of teachers, TCTA representatives, principals, administrators, and a nationally recognized expert will work to incorporate field test comments into the final design in the summer of 2010. Once the performance rubric has been approved by the TPS Board of Education, negotiated with TCTA, and rolled out to the district, teachers will have one on one meetings with their principals, as well as Professional Learning Community teams leaders, Turnaround Office, and Lead Turnaround Partners, as necessary, to discuss the individualized strengths and weaknesses of the teacher as they relate to the teacher’s impact in student achievement and student progress so that they can make data informed changes and improvement to their practice.	Pilot Spring 2010 Revision with nationally recognized expert Summer 2010 with roll out Fall 2010	Human Capital Office Human Capital Office

The performance standards will be developmentally appropriate for probationary and career teachers. TPS will implement and enforce adherence to these standards to avoid harm to the students. District administrators and principals will be required to clearly communicate expectations to their teachers, make it known that ineffectiveness will not be tolerated, document the performance of every teacher, and be held accountable for enforcing the rules when expectations are not met. In order to provide sufficient time for actual improvement, TPS will work with state officials to introduce legislation in the next session to extend the maximum period for a plan of improvement to one year. Probationary and career teachers will be aware of their developmental needs well before their formal evaluation because they will be developmentally appraised with the same assessment tool prior to being consulted regarding their formal evaluation results. If their next formal evaluation does not bring them into the acceptable range, they will be dismissed. These standards will be clearly communicated to all leaders at the outset of their term and as needed for reinforcement. An effective leader will be expected to show a school value-added score that meets or exceeds a specified minimum score each year as well as meeting Federal AYP (Annual Yearly Progress) standards for graduation rates, student test scores, and attendance. They will also be required to have a score on their performance rubric evaluation that meets or exceeds district standards. Developing leaders will be permitted to achieve at a slightly lower standard in their first year, but will be expected to reach the district standard of effectiveness in the following year. 4. Provide staff with ongoing, high-quality, job-embedded professional development (e.g. , regarding subject-specific pedagogy, instruction that reflects a deeper understanding of the community served by the school, or differentiated instruction) that is aligned with the school’s comprehensive instructional program and designed with school staff to ensure they are equipped to facilitate effective teaching and learning and have the capacity to successfully implement school reform strategies.	Too often teachers and administrators are overwhelmed with data, but they lack the means to utilize that data in a productive and impactful manner. By implementing the following strategies, TPS will establish and sustain school-wide, balanced assessment systems that reinforce the value of both summative and formative measures to inform educational decision making as well as empowering teachers and administrators to use data efficiently to make such decisions. These changes in practice will be implemented through the use of differentiated, problem-based professional development that is highly utilitarian for all staff, including leadership mentoring. A scaffolded system of support will be built to ensure proper use and sustainability through extensive training for district and building level Professional Learning Community leaders. Further, each participating school will be provided with a Data Coordinator to provide ongoing, direct support to teachers and the school-based Professional Learning Communities. Professional development will be provided through in-person training as well as online courses and webinars developed by the Lead Turnaround Partner. In addition to the Professional Development offerings throughout the year and the weekly PLC team discussions and planning sessions, the Lead Turnaround Partner will design and host a 5-day summer academy each year for the leaders and teachers of the participating schools to immerse them in Transformation principles and help them implement the models to fidelity. Two days will then be "doing" sessions where each school has the opportunity as a large group and as smaller PLC teams to process the information learned and work out an action plan for the upcoming school year.
5. Implement such strategies such as financial incentives, increased opportunities for promotion and career growth, and more flexible work conditions that are designed to recruit, place, and retain staff with the skills necessary to meet the needs of the student in a transformation school.	Principals, teachers, and staff at each school that meets or exceeds its annual milestones in all categories (reading/language arts, mathematics, graduation rates – for high schools only) will be rewarded with school-based incentives. The TPS Turnaround Office will work with the Lead Turnaround Partner to determine a range of awards, spanning from meeting the minimum milestone to far exceeding the target. Rigorous Curriculum Finally, TPS will implement and integrate a rigorous college and career-readiness curriculum, ACT/America's Choice: Rigor and Readiness Initiative, into the overall plan for school transformation. 	TPS contracted with ACT/America's Choice in the summer of 2009 to begin a pilot implementation in some of its middle schools and high schools. The program is designed to improve the level of college readiness as determined by the extensive research conducted by the America College Testing (ACT) organization. The reform model is based on the Response to Intervention (RTI) practices that have a proven record of success. The RTI process applies to both academic interventions and guidance of psychosocial supports. In addition to the intervention strategies, the focus of this initiative is to improve teaching methodology, raise academic standards, increase data driven instructional practices and collaboration via Professional Learning Communities (PLC).	beyond	principal
7. Promote the continuous use of student data (such as from formative, interim, and summative assessments) to inform and differentiate instruction in order to meet the academic needs of individual students.	1) Summative Data Access and Use By analyzing value-added and student growth projection information, end of course examinations, as well as Explore, Plan, and ACT test scores, teachers and administrators will use their data to assess how they are impacting student learning and to inform their decisions about instructional efficacy, practice, student and teacher placement, and the effects of interventions. Professional development and Professional Learning Community efforts under this component will concentrate on ensuring a teacher's ability to do the following: a) Interpret value added test results	Training for Professional Learning Community Team Leaders and Data Coordinators August/September 2010 Professional Learning Community teams	Turnaround Office and Lead Turnaround Partners Turnaround Office, Lead Turnaround Partners,

11. Ensure that the school receives ongoing, intensive technical assistance and related support from the LEA, the SEA, or a designated external lead partner organization (such as a school turnaround organization or an EMO).	TPS will establish a District Turnaround Director will oversee the implementation and insure the fidelity of the transformation model at each of the participating schools. TPS will conduct a national search to fill the position with an individual who meets the following qualifications to lead the district in its turnaround efforts at the participating schools: The Turnaround Director will serve as the chief administrative officer responsible for the management, evaluation, and improvement of the instruction, instructional resources, student support, and operations for the participating schools. Additionally, the director will act as the district, state, and community liaison. They will provide transformational leadership in helping each of the schools in creating and managing a safe, supportive and positive learning environment where all students excel, where staff is empowered and share the vision of high performance and collaboration, and where parents and community are engaged in partnerships to support student achievement.
