Purpose

The purpose of the Grade 4 Reading Test is to measure Oklahoma students' level of proficiency. On this test, students are required to respond to a variety of items linked to the fourth-grade reading content standards identified in the Oklahoma Academic Standards (OAS). Each Reading Test form assesses each identified content standard and objective listed below. The following standards and objectives are intended to summarize the knowledge as identified in the Oklahoma Academic Standards.

Test Structure, Format, and Scoring

The Oklahoma Core Curriculum Tests consist of multiple-choice items. Each multiple-choice item is scored as correct or incorrect. The student's raw score is converted to a scaled score using the number correct method. Of the total items, 10 items are field-test items and do not contribute to the student's scaled score.

Mathematics	60	50	10
Reading	60	50	10

Test Alignment with Oklahoma Academic Standards

Criteria for Aligning the Test with the Oklahoma Academic Standards Content Standards and Objectives
1. Categorical Concurrence	The test is constructed so that there are at least six items measuring each of the OAS standards. The number of items is based on estimating the number of items that could produce a reasonably reliable estimate of a student's mastery of the content measured.
2. Depth of Knowledge Consistency	The test is constructed using items from a variety of Depth of Knowledge levels that are consistent with the processes students need in order to demonstrate proficiency for each OAS objective.
3. Range of Knowledge Correspondence	The test is constructed so that at least 75% of the objectives for each of the OAS standards have at least one corresponding assessment item.
4. Balance of Representation	The test is constructed according to the Test Blueprint, which reflects the degree of representation given on the test to each OAS standard and/or OAS objective in terms of the percent of total test items measuring each standard and the number of test items measuring each standard and/or objective. The test construction shall yield a balance of representation with an index of 0.7 or higher of assessed objectives related to a standard.
5. Source of Challenge	Each test item is constructed in such a way that the major cognitive demand comes directly from the targeted OAS objective or OAS concept being assessed, not from specialized knowledge or cultural background of the test taker.

Oklahoma School Testing Program
Grade 4 Reading – Test Blueprint
School Years 2014-2015, 2015-2016, 2016-2017

The blueprint describes the content and structure of an assessment and defines the ideal number of test items by standard and objective of the Priority Academic Student Skills/ Oklahoma Academic Standards (PASS/OAS).

Standards and Objectives	Ideal Number of Items	Ideal Percentage of Items

(Please note this blueprint does not include items that may be field-tested.)

- A minimum of 6 items is required to report a standard, and a minimum of 4 items is required to report results for an objective.

Depth of Knowledge Assessed by Test Items

The Oklahoma Core Curriculum Tests will, as closely as possible, reflect the following “Depth of Knowledge” distribution of items.

Grades 3–5
Depth of Knowledge	Percent of Items
Level 1: Recall and Reproduction	20–25%
Level 2: Skills and Concepts	65–70%
Level 3: Strategic Thinking	5–15%

Grades 6–8
Depth of Knowledge	Percent of Items
Level 1: Recall and Reproduction	10–15%
Level 2: Skills and Concepts	65–70%
Level 3: Strategic Thinking	15–25%

Level 1 (Recall and Reproduction) requires students to receive or recite facts, to use simple skills and abilities, and to demonstrate basic comprehension of a text. Items require only a shallow understanding of a single word or phrase. Some examples that represent but do not constitute all Level 1 performances are:

- Support ideas by reference to details in the text.
- Use a dictionary to find the meaning of words.
- Identify figurative language in a reading passage.

Level 2 (Skills and Concepts) includes the engagement of some mental processing beyond recalling or reproducing a response; it requires both comprehension and subsequent processing of text or portions of text. Inter-sentence analysis or inference is required. Some important concepts are covered but not in a complex way. Standards and items at this level may include words such as summarize, interpret, infer, classify, organize, collect, display, compare, and determine whether fact or opinion. Literal main ideas are stressed. A Level 2 assessment item may require students to apply some of the skills and concepts that are covered in Level 1. Some examples that represent but do not constitute all Level 2 performances are:

- Use context clues to identify the meaning of unfamiliar words.
- Predict a logical outcome based on information in a reading selection.
- Identify and summarize the major events in a narrative.

Level 3 (Strategic Thinking) encourages students to go beyond the text; however, they are still required to show understanding of the ideas in the text. Students may be encouraged to explain, generalize, or connect ideas. Standards and items at Level 3 involve reasoning and planning and will probably be an extended activity, with extended time provided. The extended time period is not a distinguishing factor if the required work is only repetitive and does not require applying significant conceptual understanding and higher-order thinking. Students take information from at least one passage and are asked to apply this information to a new task. They may also be asked to develop hypotheses and perform complex analyses of the connections among texts, or describe and illustrate how common themes are found across texts from different cultures. Students must be able to support their thinking. Items may involve abstract theme identification, inference across an entire passage, or students' application of prior knowledge. Items may also involve more superficial connections between texts. Some examples that represent, but do not constitute, all Level 3 performances are:

- Analyze and synthesize information from multiple sources.
- Examine and explain alternative perspectives across a variety of sources.
- Describe and illustrate how common themes are found across texts from different cultures.
- Determine the author's purpose and describe how it affects the interpretation of a reading selection.
- Summarize information from multiple sources to address a specific topic.
- Analyze and describe the characteristics of various types of literature.

Note—The descriptions are adapted from Review Background Information and Instructions, Standards and Assessment Alignment Analysis, CCSSO TILSA Alignment Study, May 21–24, 2001, Version 2.0.

Universal Test Design Considerations

Universal design, as applied to assessments, is a concept that allows the widest possible range of students to participate in assessments and may even reduce the need for accommodations and alternative assessments by expanding access to the tests themselves. In the Oklahoma Core Curriculum Tests, modifications have been made to some items that simplify and clarify instructions, and provide maximum readability, comprehensibility, and legibility. This includes such things as reduction of language load in content areas other than Reading, increased font size, fewer items per page, and boxed items to assist visual focus. Reading tests will have vocabulary at grade level. In all other tests, the vocabulary level will be below the grade being tested except for content words. Grades 3 and 4 will be one grade level below, and grades 5, 6, 7, and 8 will be two grade levels below. These modifications are evident in the sample items included in this document.

Testing Schedules

Each subject test, except Writing, is divided into two separate sections at grades 3, 4, and 5. These two sections of the test may be administered on the same day with a break given between the sections or on consecutive days. At grades 6, 7 and 8, each subject area test is meant to be administered in a separate session. Students may be given additional time if needed, but additional time will be given as an extension of the same testing period, not at a different time.

Multiple-Choice Item Guidelines

- All item stems clearly indicate what is expected in an item to help students focus on selecting a response.
- Each multiple-choice item has a stem (question, statement, or incomplete statement, and/or graphic component) and four answer (or completion) options, only one of which is correct.
- Multiple-choice item stems present a complete problem so that students know what to do before looking at the answer choices; students should not need to read all answer choices before knowing what is expected.
- Art incorporated within an item must be functional and assist students in determining the correct response.

In summary, test items assess whether students: understand relevant concepts and procedures; communicate their understandings effectively in content specific terms; approach problems; and develop viable solutions. In Reading, items ask questions that address issues of importance in a text, and the questions are consequential, concise, focused, and fair.

Stimulus Materials

Stimulus materials are the passages, graphs, models, figures, etc. that students must read and examine in order to respond to items. The following characteristics are necessary for stimulus materials:

1. When students are given information, data, or an experimental setup to evaluate, they should know the research question and the purpose of the research.
2. Tables, graphs, reading passages, and illustrations provide sufficient information for assessment of multiple standards.
3. Stimulus materials for a set of items may be a combination of multiple stimuli.
4. Information in stimulus materials is representative of concepts and principles described in the Oklahoma Academic Standards.
5. For conceptual items, stimulus materials are necessary but not conceptually sufficient for student response.
6. There is a balance of graphic and textual stimulus materials within a test form. At least 50% of the items have appropriate pictorial and graphical representations. Graphs, tables, or figures are clearly associated with their intended items. Graphics appear either on the same page as the stimulus or on the facing page.
7. The stimuli avoid subject matter that might prompt emotional distress on the part of the students.
8. Permission to use stimuli from copyrighted material is obtained as necessary by the testing vendor.

General Considerations

It is necessary to create test items that are reliable, fair, and targeted to the Oklahoma Academic Standards listed on the following pages. There are some general considerations and procedures for effective item development. These considerations include, but are not limited to, the following:

1. Each test form contains items assessing standards and objectives listed in the Test Blueprint for the specific grade and content area. In the Oklahoma Academic Standards document, asterisks have been used to identify standards and objectives that must be assessed by the local school district.
2. Test items that assess each standard are not limited to one particular type of response format. Each item begins with a stem that asks a question or poses a clear problem. Stems may include incomplete sentences in order to reduce unnecessary repetition of text.
3. Test items attempt to focus on content that is authentic and that grade-level students can relate to and understand.
4. Test items are worded precisely and clearly. The more focused an item, the more reliable and fair it will be, and the more likely all students will understand what is required of them.

5. All items are reviewed to eliminate language that is biased or is otherwise likely to disadvantage a particular group of students. That is, items do not display unfair representations of gender, race, ethnicity, disability, culture, or religion; nor do items contain elements that are offensive to any such groups.
6. All multiple-choice items, including the correct response and distractors, are similar in length and syntax. Students should not be able to rule out a wrong answer or identify a correct response solely because it looks or sounds different from the other answer choices. Distractors are created so that students reason their way to the correct answer rather than simply identify incorrect responses because of a distractor’s obviously inappropriate nature. Distractors should always be plausible (but incorrect) in the context of the item stem. Correct responses are reasonably distributed among A’s, B’s, C’s, and D’s. The distractors adopt the language and sense of the material in the selection. Test items focus on reading skills and comprehension strategies, avoiding measurement of a student’s feelings or values.
7. Items deal with issues and details that are of consequence in the stimulus and central to students’ understanding and interpretation of the stimulus.
8. To the greatest extent possible, no item or response choice clues the answer to any other item. No item stem or answer option provides clues to any other item’s answer, nor is the same fact of the passage assessed more than once, including the same vocabulary or technical term.
9. Test items are tied closely and particularly to the stimuli from which they derive, so that the impact of outside (prior) knowledge, while never wholly avoidable, is minimized.
10. The responses “Both of the above,” “All of the above,” “None of the above,” and “Neither of the above” are not used.
11. Most stems are positively worded, avoiding the use of the word not. If a negative is required, the format is “All of the following . . . except.”
12. The material presented is balanced, culturally diverse, well-written, and of interest to students. The stimuli and items are presented fairly in order to gain a true picture of students’ skills.
13. Across all forms, a balance of gender and active/passive roles by gender is maintained.
14. No resource materials or calculators may be used by students during the test.

Considerations for Reading

Grade-level passages contain identifiable key concepts with relevant supporting details. Each passage will be appropriate for determining the purpose for reading; analyzing character traits; compare/contrast; problem/solution; interpretation; application; analysis; synthesis; drawing conclusions; making an inference; being conducive for vocabulary analogies; and relevant reading tasks as defined by the Oklahoma Academic Standards for the specific grade level.

The passages have a variety of sentence types and lengths, may include dialogue, reflect Oklahoma’s cultural diversity, and possess sufficient structural integrity to allow them to be self-contained. Reading passages will reflect a balance of genres from narrative and expository texts. The majority of the selections used for the reading test include authentic literature; a minor portion may be selected from commissioned works.

All passages are reviewed to eliminate cultural or other forms of bias that might disadvantage any group(s) of students. The passages avoid subject matter that might prompt emotional distress. Permission to use selections from copyrighted material are obtained as necessary. Each passage generates multiple-choice items.

Grade	Word Count*	Authentic Literary Selections	Expository Selections (1 task-oriented/functional)
3	200–600	3–6	3–5
4	200–600	4–6	3–5
5	300–700	4–6	4–6
6	300–700	4–6	4–6
7	500–900	4–6	4–6
8	500–900	4–6	4–6

*Paired passages can have a total word count 1.5 times the highest word count for that grade.

A test form contains at least one set of paired passages that allows students to make comparisons and connections between texts. The items with paired passages, which require comparisons and connections, should appear after both passages. There is a minimum of three questions for the related paired passages in addition to three to five separate questions for each of the passages in the pair.

Readability

The selected reading passages will be at the appropriate grade level. The readability level of all passages is evaluated using three recognized readability formulas. The formulas chosen for each grade vary according to the purpose for which the formula was developed.

Grades 3 and 4 use the following formulas: Flesch-Kincaid Grade Level, Spache, or any other formula that is deemed appropriate. Grades 5-8 determine the readability level of their passages using the following formulas: Dale-Chall, Flesch-Kincaid Grade Level, Smog, or any other formulas considered reliable.

In addition, sentence structure, length, vocabulary, content, visuals, and organization are reviewed when selecting appropriate grade level passages. The teacher panel that reviews the passages provides the final evaluation instrument used to make a decision in regards to the readability of a passage.

Vocabulary

The vocabulary words tested in Oklahoma Core Curriculum Tests come directly from the passage content. Words used for vocabulary items have sufficient surrounding context clues for the reader to determine the meaning. Students may encounter words in the text that are not tested, but are above the student's grade placement. In Grades 3–5, these challenging words and their definitions may be placed in a word box above the story or article. In Grades 6–8, the definitions of challenging words may be placed in footnotes.

No single source is available to determine the reading level of various words. Therefore, the appropriateness and difficulty of a word is determined in various ways. Vocabulary words are checked in the following: EDL Core Vocabularies in Reading, Mathematics, Science, and Social Studies; Basic Reading Vocabularies; The Living Word; or other reliable readability sources. In addition to using the aforementioned printed resources to assist in creating vocabulary items, each vocabulary item must be approved by Oklahoma's Content Review Committee. The committee, of Oklahoma educators from across the state, reviews proposed vocabulary items for grade level appropriateness. Reading tests will have vocabulary at grade level. In all other tests, the vocabulary level will be below the grade being tested except for content words. Grades 3 and 4 will be one grade level below, and grades 5, 6, 7, and 8 will be two grade levels below.

All items developed using these specifications are reviewed by Oklahoma educators and approved by the Oklahoma State Department of Education. The distribution of newly developed items is based on content and process alignment, difficulty, cognitive ability, percentage of art/graphics, and grade-level appropriateness as determined by an annual Item Development Plan approved by the Oklahoma State Department of Education.

Overview of Item Specifications

For each OAS standard, item specifications are organized under the following headings:

- OAS Standard and OAS Objective
- Item Specifications
  - a. Emphasis
  - b. Stimulus Attributes
  - c. Format
  - d. Content Limits
  - e. Distractor Domain
  - f. Sample Test Items

The headings “OAS Standard” and “OAS Objective” state the standard and objective being measured as found in the reading section of the Oklahoma Academic Standards document.

The heading “Item Specifications” highlights important points about the items’ emphasis, stimulus attributes, format, content limits, distractor domain, and sample test items. Although it is sometimes possible to score single items for more than one concept, all items in these tests are written to address a single content standard as the primary concept.

Note about the Item Specifications and Sample Test Items:

With the exception of content limits, the item specifications give suggestions of what might be included and do not give an exhaustive list of what can be included. The sample test items are not intended to be definitive in nature or construction—the stimuli and the test items that follow them may differ from one test form to another, as may their presentations.

Oklahoma Academic Standards

LANGUAGE ARTS

*Reading PassagesSeashell Secrets

delicate—easy to break or hurt
mobile—able to move

1 When you walk along the beach, you almost always find seashells. There are thousands of shells in the sea and on land. The waves from the ocean toss the shells up onto the shore. Some shells look pretty and are very delicate. Other seashells are beautiful and strong.

Shells Are Important

2 Shells protect the animals living inside them. Mollusks (mol uhks), soft-bodied animals like clams and snails, form shells. The animal's body makes a liquid. The liquid leaks from the animal's body. When the liquid becomes hard, it forms a shell. As the animal gets bigger, it creates more shell-making liquid. The shell grows as the animal grows.

3 The shells scattered on the beach were once the homes of mollusks. They provide safety and shelter. Both sea and land mollusks pull their bodies into their rugged shells when danger approaches.

4 The strong shells also keep mollusks moist when there is no water. Twice a day there is a low tide in the ocean. When the tide is low there is less water on the beach. Without water, the animal in the shell may die. However, the shell holds water that allows the mollusk to stay moist until high tide comes along to wash it back into the sea.

Types of Shells

5 Some mollusks have one-piece shells. A snail is an example of an animal living in a single shell. Other mollusks, like clams, mussels, and oysters, have two-part shells. Each half of the shell is exactly the same, and they fit together perfectly. The two parts are connected together at one point. The mollusk uses strong muscles to snap the pieces of its shell together. Sometimes the animals close the shell for protection, and sometimes the animals move by opening and closing the shell.

6 Shells come in many colors. Some shells have stripes and spots, and others have fancy designs. The designs allow the animal to look like the area around it. If the animals are not seen, then they are protected.

7 Shells can be many different sizes and shapes. Some are no bigger than a grain of rice, and others are as big as a television set. Seashells are very useful homes for mollusks.

State Fair

1 Mr. and Mrs. Peck surprised their children with a trip to the Oklahoma State Fair. The twins, Rich and Bernie, were so excited. They jumped up and down in celebration with their younger sister, Ashley.

2 After a two-hour drive, Mr. Peck pulled into the parking lot. The boys excitedly turned to look at the tall whirling objects in the carnival. "Wow, look at them spin! I want to go there first," exclaimed Rich, and Bernie agreed. When they entered the fairgrounds, a man in a red shirt gave them flyers. The flyers had a list of events on one side and a map of the carnival on the other.

3 The family stood still for a few minutes taking in all the sights, sounds, and smells. There were crowds everywhere. Some children were riding horses to prepare for their races. Others were brushing pigs, cows, and sheep to be entered in contests. Some ladies were taking homemade food into a building for a contest. Judges would be picking the best tasting recipe. The winners would receive purple, blue, and red ribbons. The smell of hot buttery popcorn and the soft sweet smell of cotton candy made the family's mouths water.

4 Ashley and her mother decided to watch the animals in the contests. Then they would look at the delicious pies and cakes. Ashley and her mom were afraid they would get lost so they took a map. The boys wanted to go to the carnival, so Mr. Peck took them to the ticket booth. He gave them money to buy tickets for the rides. They decided to ride on the Tower Wheel first.

5 The family agreed to meet at the carnival ticket booth in one hour. There was so much to see and do! Yes, the State Fair was a great place!

Teaming Up to Help

xylophone—a musical instrument with wooden bars of different lengths that are struck to give different notes.

1 Kim took her flute and books from her locker and started toward the door. It had been a long, busy day. As she passed the gym, she noticed her friends reading a poster.

2 “Come on over, Kim!” called Lou. Shari, Juan, and Lou were reading about an activity on Saturday. “We are cleaning up the area around Perry Park,” Lou said. “There’ll be a picnic after we’re done. How about helping us?”

3 “Well, um—maybe. I mean no,” Kim answered. “I don’t think I can. I have my flute lesson on Saturday.”

4 Shari looked puzzled. “It’s to help the ‘Keep Our City Clean’ project,” she said. “We’ll have a good time.”

5 “Um, I need to go. I’ll see you guys later.” Kim quickly headed down the hall and out the door. She did not enjoy yard work and the thought of cleaning a park was not pleasant.

6 On Saturday Lou, Juan, and Shari arrived with their parents at the park. Lou gave large garbage bags to everyone. Before long, fifteen students were stuffing leaves, fallen branches, and paper into the bags.

7 As Kim walked home from her flute lesson, she heard the faint sounds of laughter coming from the park. Kim hesitated, feeling selfish for not joining her friends. They were so cheerful!

8 When she arrived home, Kim decided to practice her flute, but it was difficult to concentrate on her music. Her thoughts wandered as she compared her mood with that of her friends. She gently placed her flute in its case.

9 Her friends smiled at one another when they saw Kim coming to the park. "Over here!" called Shari. Kim joined them and listened as they discussed how much fun they had.

10 By noon, the park was clean and the kids were glad to rest. When the food was ready, the hungry children ate like there was no tomorrow! The volunteers had worked very hard. Kim was so proud of her friends for cleaning up the park that she invited them to her house to celebrate.

11 Lou and Juan ran to their own homes to get a surprise. When everyone arrived at Kim's house, Lou took out his xylophone, while Juan joined in with his guitar. Kim ran to her bedroom and returned with her flute. The sound of music filled the air as they all joined in together. Kim was grateful for her friends and was looking forward to the next project where she would be part of their team.

Mary Rodas—Toys, Toys, Toys

1 Have you ever thought that children should run toy companies? Who else would be better for the job than a customer? One toy company decided to listen to a child's opinion. Mary Rodas was hired to work for a toy company when she was only four years old. By the time she was 14, she was a vice-president of the company.

2 Mary's parents came to the United States from El Salvador. They did not speak English very well, but they worked hard to make a living. When Mary was four years old, her father took care of an apartment building. A toy inventor lived in one of the apartments. One day he asked Mary's father if she could play with the toys he made and give her opinion. Her ideas were honest and helpful. He continued to deliver toys to her family's apartment and she played with them, telling him what she thought.

3 One day he showed her a new kind of ball. Inside of the ball was a balloon. The outside had a plain white cloth covering. Although Mary thought the ball was fun, it needed something more. Bright colors would make the ball more interesting. Mary was right! Children liked the colorful ball! It became popular in many different countries.

4 Although Mary was very young, she was offered a job at the toy company. People listened to her ideas and respected what she said. She told them what she thought kids wanted. Sometimes she would watch other children play to learn about toys they liked. Other times she just had a feeling about whether or not a toy would be popular.

5 After high school, Mary went to college in New York while still working at the toy company. It was not easy, but she worked hard. People often asked her why she went to college if she had a job and was making a large salary. Her reply was, "There is always more to learn."

6 Mary learned many things over the years. She thinks that the best toys are inexpensive, basic toys that are changed into something new. Although she is no longer a child, she still plays with toys. She has learned to listen to people about what they like and dislike. Working hard and doing her best are important values that she learned from her parents. Mary, one of the youngest vice-presidents of a company, continues to love her work!

Unwrapping the Stars

1 When the sun starts sinking in the sky
The clouds are oh so bright.
They look just like an evening gown.
I really like the sight.

5 All colors of the rainbow—
Especially blue and pink—
Each night I see a different sight.
It really makes me think
Those red and green and purple clouds

10 Are ribbons in the sky
That unwrap all those bright, bright stars
To shine before my eyes.
